Guest Speaker

John Brennan, CIO of CIS, came to speak about the bandwidth issue brought up at last weeks Student Senate meeting. Mr. Brennan offered a breakdown of the bandwidth information and started by stating there is 100 megabits available to campus. During business hours 60% of the bandwidth goes towards Bronco Wireless. After 6 pm, 75% goes towards Bronco Wireless. After 9 pm the bandwidth raises to around 90%. During those times the rest of the bandwidth is reserved for administration and other uses around campus. To get 100 megabits SUNY Delhi pays $5,000 a month. Each student is allowed 2 megabits per second to be sure one student can’t use all the bandwidth and another student can’t utilize any. All in all the entire day the SUNY Delhi campus is at full bandwidth capacity.

LASO confirmed that during peak hours around 5 or 6 pm the bandwidth is slower because not everyone can have their full 2 megabit per second?

Mr. Brennan answered correct, because the library is still open and we need to keep the bandwidth open for those computers as well.

LASO asked if a student were to go over their 2 megabits per second would they experience yellow screen.

Mr. Brennan answered no, when your computer opens too many connections at one time there may be a higher risk for spam and easier for spam to spread itself. When a firewall sees this it thinks the computer has a virus and you will experience yellow screen.

AGC asked is there nothing we can do without students paying more.

Mr. Brennan jokingly responded money buys happiness. Ninety-five percent of students will not hit the 2 megabits per second that is allocated. This is a very appropriate level for our students. It is not necessary for all students to pay additional money for those 5% of students that are hitting or trying to hit their top megabit usage.

Computer Club asked, what happens in 2 to 4 years from now when there are more people using megabits for online classes?
Mr. Brennan answered SUNY Delhi just doubled the bandwidth. SUNY Delhi adds bandwidth when the system isn’t working properly. We are always monitoring it to provide the best service.

Patisserie Club mentioned Mac users seem to experience more yellow screens than other students.
Brennan answered this is true because Macs run a system called “Bonjour” that is constantly uploading itself so Macs can communicate. To keep that going it causes a lot of connections and the server thinks it is a virus. It is possible to disable this system to prevent that from happening.

LASO asked how students can keep the yellow screen to a minimum.
Brennan answered to keep updating your computer and try not to use systems that automatically update themselves. However, if specific machines are experiencing difficulties they would have to be looked at and there is no clear cut reason for why it happens.

President Abraham thanked Mr. Brennan for his excellent and informative presentation, and for taking the time to come and address this important issue.
