

DELHI COLLEGE GOLF COURSE FEATURED IN NATIONAL GOLF MAGAZINE

DELHI, NY ... The Delhi College Golf Course is featured in the September/October 2002 issue of Links magazine, a national publication devoted the very best of golf, with articles on history, tradition and spirit of the game.

The article described the Delhi College Golf Course as a golf destination for those traveling through the foothills of New York's Catskill Mountains, touting its affordability and the course's certification by the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary System.

The article also highlighted the course's role as an educational lab for SUNY Delhi's golf/turf management students, and added that "Students work with state-of-the-art grasses and irrigation, which translates into outstanding playing conditions for guests."

The Delhi College Golf Course is an 18-hole public course located on Scotch Mountain Road in Delhi that also serves as an educational lab for SUNY Delhi's two-year and four-year programs in Golf/Turf Management.
